

After living for 25 years in US, now for the first time I feel like living under a dictatorship. All the tricks that republicans are pulling to hang on to power is no different from what Saddam use to do. Controlling media and is the last trick and sinclair showing anti Kerry documentery whitout showing anti bush is the just like living in Baghdad under Saddam and receiving one sided news report. If you don't do something about this you will never see america the same.
